Business Tax Basics

This basic tax guide is created to help you understand the Washington's tax structure. It is intended to provide an overview of the taxes that apply to various business activities in Washington state.

Washington State does not have a corporate or personal income tax. Most Washington businesses are subject to three major state taxes, which are either administered or overseen by the Department of Revenue:

1. Business and occupation tax (B&O)
2. Retail sales tax
3. Use tax

Other taxes may apply to your business, such as:

- Public utility tax
- Specialty taxes
- County and city taxes

Reminder

State tax laws change regularly. The information provided is current at the time of the publication.

Business and Occupation Tax

State Business and Occupation (B&O) Tax

The state business and occupation (B&O) tax is a gross receipts tax measured on the value of products, gross proceeds of sales, or gross income of your business. The B&O tax is part of a business' operating overhead and is levied upon the person or company engaged in the business activity. It is not a tax imposed on the purchaser or customer, as is the case with Washington's retail sales tax. Almost all businesses located or doing business in Washington are subject to the B&O tax, including corporations, LLCs, partnerships, sole proprietors, and nonprofit corporations.

The B&O tax is due on gross income from business conducted in the state. No expense deductions are allowed for labor, materials, taxes, or other costs of doing business, although your business may qualify for certain exemptions, deductions, or credits.

Unlike the retail sales tax, a sale does not have to occur for a business to owe B&O tax. For example, if you extract or manufacture goods for your own use, you owe B&O tax.

The B&O tax rate, which is printed on the excise tax return, is based on the type of business activity. Your business can have multiple activities (classifications). You are responsible for determining which classification(s) to report your income under. If you are unsure of the classification(s), please contact us.

In addition to the major B&O tax classifications, several specific classifications exist. Some have the same B&O tax rate as the general classifications, but are reported on different lines on the return. Others have their own unique tax rates. Refer to Appendix A, page 26, for an excise tax return sample.

B&O Tax Rates

The most common classifications are:

Retailing	.00471
Wholesaling	.00484
Manufacturing	.00484
Service and other activities	.018

Major B&O Tax Classifications

There are nearly 40 B&O tax classifications for business activities. Following are brief descriptions of four major classifications. You may also refer to the Common Business Activities Table, page 51.

Retailing

Businesses that sell goods and certain services to consumers are retailers. Taxable retail services include:

1. Improving real or personal property, such as:

- Custom construction
- Repairs to real or personal property

2. Certain personal services, such as:

- Tanning
- Physical fitness services and Pilates
- Tattooing

3. Specialized activities, such as:

- Lawn mowing, tree and shrub pruning, and trimming
- Escrow services
- Renting equipment with operators
- Extended warranties

Businesses making retail sales are subject to the Retailing B&O tax classification, even when the sales are not subject to retail sales tax. For example, certain food products are exempt from retail sales tax, but the income from food sales is taxable under the Retailing B&O tax classification.

Wholesaling

Wholesalers sell goods and services to businesses who will resell them to others in the regular course of business. The B&O tax is calculated on the wholesale selling price. If you are a wholesaler, you must keep a reseller permit on file from each buyer to document the transaction as a wholesale sale. Do not send reseller permits to the Department of Revenue; they must be kept by the wholesaler.

Retail sales tax is not collected on wholesale transactions. Reseller permits are good as long as the buyer and seller do business with each other once every 12 months. A sample of a reseller permit is printed on page 31. For more information, see page 7 or refer to the reseller permit information found on our website at dor.wa.gov/resellerpermit.

Manufacturing

The Manufacturing B&O tax classification is used by firms that manufacture items in Washington. Manufactured products used by the manufacturer, but not sold (or used prior to sale), also are subject to B&O tax under this classification. The Manufacturing B&O tax is based on the value of the products, which is usually determined by the selling price. In cases where there is no sale, the value is the selling price of similar products. If the producer sells and delivers the manufactured product within the state, that income is also reported under the Wholesaling or Retailing B&O tax classification. However, because of the Multiple Activities Tax Credit, only one tax is due. A State of Washington Multiple Activities Tax Credit (Schedule C) must be completed to claim the credit. See page 30.

Service and Other Activities

This classification is for businesses that provide personal and professional services. Any business not described under a particular classification of the B&O tax must report under this catch all category. Types of businesses and services that fall under this category include:

Consulting services	Lawyers
Management services	Beauticians
Doctors	Tutors
	Janitors

If you need help figuring out your business classification, call our Telephone Information Center at 1-800-647-7706.

Economic Nexus

Washington State has an economic nexus standard for businesses that report under apportionable B&O tax classifications. For these classifications, your business does not need to have a physical presence to have nexus and be subject to Washington tax.

Apportionable income is earned from engaging in the following activities:

- Service and other activities
- Royalties
- Travel agents and tour operators
- International steamship agent, international customs house broker, international freight forwarder, vessel and/or cargo charter broker in foreign commerce, and/or international air cargo agent
- Stevedoring and associated activities
- Disposing of low-level waste
- Insurance producers, title insurance agents, or surplus line brokers
- Public or nonprofit hospitals
- Real estate brokers
- Research and development performed by nonprofit corporations or associations
- Inspecting, testing, labeling, and storing canned salmon owned by another person
- Representing and performing services for fire or casualty insurance companies as an independent resident managing general agent licensed under the provisions chapter 48.17 RCW
- Contests of chance
- Horse races
- International investment management services
- Aerospace product development
- Printing or publishing a newspaper (but only with respect to advertising income)
- Printing materials other than newspapers and publishing periodicals or magazines (but only with respect to advertising income)

- Cleaning up radioactive waste and other by-products of weapons production and nuclear research and development, but only with respect to activities that would be taxable as an apportionable activity if this special tax classification did not exist

If your business earns income from an apportionable B&O classification in another state or country and meets one of the following thresholds within a calendar year, you are eligible to apportion your income attributable to that state or country away from Washington.

- Pay business activities tax in the other state or country
- Have more than $50,000 of payroll in the other state or country
- Have more than $50,000 of property in the other state or country
- Have more than $250,000 of gross income in the other state or country
- Have at least 25 percent of your total property, payroll, or income in the other state

If you are eligible to apportion your income, it may reduce the amount of Washington tax you owe.

More information and a video tutorial are available at dor.wa.gov/economnicnexus.

Exemptions, Deductions and Credits

Although Washington's B&O tax applies to most business income, some exemptions, deductions, and credits are available.

Exemptions

The following four activities are exempt and are not subject to B&O tax. There is no need to report these activities to the Department of Revenue on your excise tax return.

If your type of business, business income, or business activities are listed below as exempt, and you do not owe or collect any other taxes for the Department of Revenue, you do not need to register with us.

Nonprofit and Social Service Organizations

In Washington State, nonprofit organizations are not necessarily tax exempt, but the organization may qualify for exemptions or deductions.

Qualifying activities include:

- Sales for fundraising activities of certain nonprofit organizations. This does not include the regular operation of a business enterprise such as a bookstore, thrift shop, or restaurant.
- Auctions conducted by public benefit organizations.
- Child care provided by churches and child care resource and referral income.

Government

- County, city, school, and fire district income, except utility or enterprise operations in competition with other businesses, and more than 50 percent funded by user fees.
- State and federal grants received by political subdivisions when no significant services are performed in return.
- Labor and services in regard to preparation of sand and gravel taken from pits that are owned or leased by a city or county, and used by the city or county for purposes of road construction and repair.
- Printing done by cities, counties, and school districts for their own purposes.

Financial

- International banking facilities.
- State and federally chartered credit unions.

Farming

Certain farming activities are exempt from B&O tax. Some examples are:

- Farmers making wholesale sales of agricultural products produced by them, on land owned or leased by them.
- Raising and selling, at wholesale, plantation Christmas trees.
- Processing hops into extract, pellets, or powder sold to out-of-state buyers.
- Manufacturing fresh fruit or vegetables, dairy, and seafood products.

For more information, refer to our Agricultural Tax Guide available on our website at dor.wa.gov/farmers.

Deductions

The five common B&O deductions are listed below. Deductions for one B&O tax classification might not apply to another. A complete list of deductions and deduction definitions can be found on our website dor.wa.gov under Find taxes & rates.

Deductions must be included in your gross income, then identified and subtracted as deductions.

1. Bad Debts: Previously reported income not received - written off in your accrual-based account books for federal income tax purposes - is deductible. (WAC 458-20-196)

Applies to all classifications.

2. Cash and Trade Discounts: The amount of bona fide discounts from the selling price that are included in the gross amount reported may be deducted. (WAC 458-20-108)

Applies to all classifications.

3. Interstate and Foreign Sales: Amounts received for items delivered by the seller or by a common carrier to out-of-state locations are deductible. Amounts received by service providers for services performed out-of-state are also deductible. (WAC 458-20-193 and -194)

Applies to selling and services classifications.

Does not apply to manufacturing, processing, or extracting classifications.

4. Returns and Allowances: When the buyer returns items purchased and the entire selling price is refunded or credited, the seller may deduct the selling price previously reported. (WAC 458-20-108) Applies to all classifications.

5. Freight on Out-of-State Deliveries:

Manufacturers, processors, and extractors may take a deduction for actual transportation costs from the point of origin in this state to the point of delivery outside the state.

(WAC 458-20-112)

Applies to manufacturing, processing for hire, and extracting classifications.

Casual Sales

A casual sale is a sale of tangible personal property by a person who is not engaged in the business of selling the type of property involved.

B&O tax does not apply to casual sales. The amount of the sale must be reported under the Retailing B&O tax classification, but a deduction may be taken on the deduction detail sheet.

However, the retail sales tax must be collected on all casual sales made by a person who engaged in a business activity.

Example: A dealership that is upgrading its computer system sells an old computer to one of its employees. The dealer is not in the business of selling computers, so no B&O tax is due, but the dealer must charge the employee retail sales tax on the selling price of the computer.

Deductions NOT Allowed

Businesses are not allowed to deduct any costs for doing business. For most businesses, this generally includes:

- Gasoline or other fuel purchases
- Wages and salaries
- Product costs
- Delivery costs (freight)

Credits

Credits exist for specific purposes, reducing the B&O tax liability, and in turn, your tax payment.

Examples of credits include:

- Small Business B&O Tax Credit*
- International Services Tax Credit
- Rural County B&O Tax Credit
- High Technology B&O Tax Credit
- Ride Share Credit for B&O Tax
- Multiple Activities Tax Credit (MATC)
- Commute Trip Reduction Credit Program

Credits are also issued when you overpay your taxes in a reporting period.

Local B&O Tax

In addition to the state B&O tax, many cities also tax businesses on their gross income. However, there is no connection between the state and local B&O taxes. To find out if your city has a B&O tax, call your city's business license office.

Reseller Permit

Businesses buying goods or services for resale must use a reseller permit or other approved exemption certificate to make purchases without paying sales tax.

Reseller permits may be used to buy:

- Merchandise and inventory for resale without the buyer using first.
- Ingredients, components, or chemicals used in processing new products for sale.
- Feed, seed, seedlings, fertilizer, and spray materials if you are a farmer.
- Materials and contract labor for retail/wholesale construction.
- Items for dual purposes.

Reseller permits may NOT be used to buy:

- Items for personal or household use.
- Items used in a business that are not resold, these include office supplies and equipment.
- Promotional items or gifts.
- Tools, equipment, or equipment rentals.
- Materials and contract labor for public road construction, U.S. government contracting, or speculative building.

Other certificates

Buyers may also use specific exemption certificates to make purchases without paying sales tax. These may include:

- Streamlined Sales Tax exemption certificate
- Multi-State Tax exemption certificate
- State farmers' exemption certificate

Find information about these exemption certificates at dor.wa.gov/resellerpermit.

The Department routinely verifies purchases made with reseller permits. Sellers are not responsible for uncollected sales tax if they have record of a permit or other valid exemption certificate to support a sale.

How to apply

You may apply for a reseller permit at dor.wa.gov/resellerpermit or by calling 1-800-647-7706.

Tax paid at source

If you don't have a reseller permit, you can a Taxable Amount for Tax Paid at Source deduction on your return or request a refund from the Department. For more information, see Deductions on page 6 and line 0130 on the sample tax return on page 26.

Special rules for contractors

Most retail and manufacturing businesses in Washington State are automatically issued reseller permits.

Construction businesses will not be automatically issued a permit. They must apply and provide detailed information about material and labor purchases. Construction business reseller permits are valid for 24 months. The Department will notify businesses by mail prior to expiration if a permit will not be automatically renewed.

Retail Sales Tax

The retail sales tax is Washington's principal tax source.

Local sales tax is the second-largest revenue generator for local government programs, behind property tax.

All sales tax amounts collected from customers are considered trust funds of the state. These amounts are to be held by the retailer until remitted to the Department of Revenue.

Definition of a Retail Sale

Unless specifically exempt by law, a retail sale is every sale of tangible personal property, including articles produced, fabricated, or imprinted. It also includes sales of services, such as installing, repairing, , cleaning, altering, improving, constructing, and/or decorating real or personal property of or for consumers.

Certain services are specifically defined in the law to be retail sales, such as charges for transient lodging, automobile parking, title, and escrow services, touring services, extended warranties, and amusement and recreation.

Collecting and Reporting Retail Sales Tax

Retail sales tax applies to the selling price of taxable transactions and must be separately stated on the bill to the customer. The advertised price may include the amount of tax, if so indicated in an advertisement.

Local sales tax charts are available online or by calling 1-800-647-7706. The charts show combined state and local taxes for each selling price. Sellers must use the correct tax rate and location code for each location in which sales are made.

Tax liability must be reported for all sales made during the reporting period on either the accrual or cash receipts basis of accounting. Sellers are personally liable for remitting the correct amount of sales tax, even if they did not collect the proper amount, or any, from the purchaser. All amounts collected are legally considered trust funds of the state. Any sales tax collected in excess of the amount due from the customer must be paid to the Department of Revenue unless the over-collected amount is refunded to the customer.

Distribution of Retail Sales Tax

Retail sales tax is used by the government entity that imposes the tax. The state tax is deposited in the state General Fund, while city and county taxes are returned to the local governments. The city and county governments use these taxes for general expenditure programs. The Regional Transit Authority tax must be used for the operation of local transportation systems. Local revenues are returned to taxing districts based on the location of the sale.

Retail Sales Tax Rates

The state retail sales tax rate is 6.5 percent. Local retail sales tax, with rates ranging from 0.5 to 3.0 percent, is collected by retailers along with the state tax. The local tax may contain four elements:

1. The basic 0.5 percent city/county tax is effective in all areas of the state.
2. An optional city/county tax, ranging up to an additional 0.5 percent, is used by a majority of counties and all but a few cities.
3. A retail sales and use tax for the support of local transit systems which may be levied at a rate up to 0.8 percent.
4. A 0.1 percent tax for criminal justice programs, which certain counties may impose with voter approval.

Other Taxes Collected

In addition to retail sales tax, certain retail sales may require the seller to collect the following:

- Regional Transit Authority (RTA) is a 0.9 percent tax collected on sales made in parts of King, Pierce, and Snohomish counties.
- Motor Vehicle Sales/Leases tax is a 0.3 percent tax that applies to sales, leases, and transfers of motor vehicles (including trucks and motor homes) licensed for on-road use. This tax does not apply to retail car rentals that are subject to the rental car tax.

For information on other specialized taxes, refer to Special Taxes and Fees on page 14.

Local Coding of Retail Sales

Retailers must accurately report the total sales by location code for each place of sale so that we can accurately distribute local sales tax to the cities and counties.

Sales of goods and merchandise are coded to the location where delivery is made. For most retailers, this is the location of his or her place of business. But when an item is shipped or delivered, the sale is coded to the location where it is received by the customer; that might be a customer's home address, work address, construction site or wherever the buyer takes possession of the item.

Labor and services are coded according to where they are primarily performed. If an installation charge is normally added to the cost of an item, the entire charge for that item is coded to the site where it is installed.

If goods are delivered into Washington from a point outside of the state the delivery address will determine the place of sale for purposes of calculating the local sales tax. (WAC 458-20-145)

Rental of Tangible Personal Property

Local sales tax on the lease or rental of tangible personal property depends upon whether the lease/rental involves periodic payments.

Single payment

If a single payment is made and the lessee picks up the equipment at the location of the rental company, then the location of the rental company determines the sales tax rate and location code.

Periodic payments

If the item is rented or leased for a length of time and periodic payments are made, the first payment is coded to the location where the lessee receives the equipment, normally the location of the rental company. All subsequent payments are coded to the location where the equipment is primarily used by the lessee.

Tools for Determining Sales Tax Rates and Codes

To help businesses assign the correct tax rates we have listed a number of available tools.

- Local Sales & Use Tax Rates and Changes (LSU) flyer, go to dor.wa.gov, click Get a form or publication.
- Tax Rate Lookup, searches according to the address, map, or latitude/longitude.
- An App for mobile devices, downloadable free from iTunes or Google play.
- Real-time web service interface, downloadable databases.
- Excel workbook, and a customer database conversion service that matches location codes to your customers' addresses. Visit destinationtax.dor.wa.gov and click on the link for More information about available tools.

Retail Sales Tax Deductions

The following retail sales tax deductions must be included in your gross income on the excise tax return and then subtracted as a deduction:

Bad debts

Deductible when written off in account books (i.e. deductible for federal income tax purposes) and reported on a previous tax return.

Interstate and foreign sales

Shipped by common carrier or delivered by seller outside of Washington.

Sales to the U.S. government

Bought with U.S. government funds; not sales to federal employees.

Motor vehicle fuel sales

Gas stations; motor vehicles and special fuel taxes administered by the Department of Licensing.

Prescription drugs, hearing aids, etc.

Sales of the above items for human use when the buyer presents a prescription.

Use Tax

Exempt food sales

Food and food ingredients per RCW 82.08.0293 must meet specific criteria.

Qualified nonresident sales

Proof of residency in qualifying state required.

Trade-in allowances

Like-kind exchanges.

Sales of manufacturing machinery

Must meet specific criteria. Refer to WAC 458-20-13601 or the Manufacturers' Sales/Use Tax Exemption fact sheet available at dor.wa.gov.

Taxable amount for tax paid at source

Amount on which sales tax was previously paid on goods purchased for resale without intervening use.

Other

Must identify applicable RWC or WAC.

Many taxpayers do not realize there are Washington tax obligations for goods purchased or acquired when sales tax was not paid. For instance, even though you don't pay sales tax when you shop in Oregon, your purchases are subject to use tax when you bring them into Washington.

Washington citizens also owe use tax in this state when they purchase items in other states that have a sales tax rate lower than Washington's.

Use, used, and put to use are defined in RCW 82.12.010 as the first act within this state by which the taxpayer takes or assumes dominion or control over the article. The definition applies to tangible personal property, some services (see RCW 82.04.050(2)(a)) and extended warranties.

Unpaid use tax costs our state and local governments millions of dollars in revenues each year. Even when a few people fail to pay use tax, we all lose. Projects and special programs that receive funding through the local government portion of the use tax are hurt.

There are many instances when Washington's sales tax is not paid on purchases. In most of these situations, use tax is due. Unless specifically exempted, goods used in this state are subject to either the sales or use tax, but not both. The tax applies regardless of where, or from whom, the property is purchased. Thus, the use tax compensates when sales tax has not been paid.

Here are some situations when use tax is due:

- Goods purchased out of state by subscription, through the Internet, or from a mail order catalog company in which the company does not collect Washington sales or use tax.
- Goods purchased from someone not required to collect sales tax. For example, when you purchase furniture or appliances from an individual through a newspaper classified ad or a yard/garage sale.
- Personal property acquired with the purchase of real property, (with the exception of machinery and equipment used in a manufacturing process, which may qualify for the Manufacturers' Sales/Use Tax Exemption).

Taxable Amount and Rates

The use tax rates are the same as the sales tax rates and can be found in our Tax Return Information and Local Sales and Use Tax Changes (LSU) flyer, available on our website at dor.wa.gov or by calling 1-800-647-7706.

Use tax, unlike sales tax, is due at the rate applicable to the location where you first use the article, not where the sale takes place. The state portion of the tax is 6.5 percent, with local governments imposing their own additional use tax. Depending on the rate of local tax, the combined use tax rates vary.

Use tax is figured on the value of the goods when first used in Washington, which is generally the purchase price. Fair market value may be used if the goods are used outside the state for a lengthy period of time before being used in Washington by the same person.

The value of the goods includes shipping and delivery charges.

Property Used in a Trade or Business

Use tax is due when goods are purchased for consumption or used by a business and sales tax has not been paid. The following examples are of goods often purchased without sales tax and use tax is due:

- Supplies, fixtures, and equipment purchased from an out of state vendor.
- Supplies, fixtures, and equipment acquired when an existing business is purchased.
- Promotional items, such as hats, T-shirts, matches, calendars, and other items given to customers or other individuals.
- Magazine subscriptions.
- Advertising or promotional materials printed out of state and distributed in Washington.
- Parts installed and labor performed on tangible personal property repaired out of state.
- Materials installed when performing federal government, city/county housing authority, or public road construction contracts.
- Equipment loaned to a contractor on which sales tax was not previously paid.

- Articles withdrawn from inventory and used by the business.
- Items leased from out of state companies.
- Gifts received (if donor has not paid use tax).
- Prizes.
- Articles manufactured by the business for its own use. If the articles are machinery and equipment used directly in a manufacturing operation, they may be exempt from the sales/use tax through the Manufacturers' Sales/Use Tax Exemption.

Trade-ins

If you purchase goods in another state and trade in a like-kind item to reduce the amount you pay for the goods, use tax is due on the amount after the value of the trade-in is subtracted. For example, you purchase a car in another state for $5,000. The dealer accepts your current car as a trade-in for $2,000. Therefore, you owe Washington use tax on $3,000 at the rate in effect where you garage the car (normally your residence).

Note: If the dealer gives you $2,000 cash instead of subtracting that amount from the new car price, then you have not traded-in your vehicle and use tax is due on the full $5,000 price of the new vehicle.

Use Tax Exemption and Credit

Exemption

Residents of another state who move to Washington are exempt from the use tax on their household goods, personal effects, and private motor vehicles, if they acquired the property more than 90 days prior to the move.

Note: For purposes of this exemption, boats, motor homes, trailers, and other RV equipment do not qualify as private motor vehicles or personal effects. Those items are subject to use tax even if acquired more than 90 days prior to moving to Washington. A credit, in the amount of sales/use tax that was previously paid on the non-exempt item, can be used to offset the amount of Washington use tax owed. Proof of previously paid sales/use tax must be provided.

When items are donated to nonprofit, charitable organizations, local governments, and the state, the use tax is not due, even if the donor did not originally pay sales or use tax on the item. The donor is also exempt from the use tax as long as there was no intervening use of the item prior to the donation.

Credit

When you bring goods into Washington that you purchased in another state and paid sales tax at the time of the purchase, you can receive a credit for this tax by subtracting the amount of sales or use tax paid from the amount you owe. However, you must have proof that the tax was actually paid to the other state prior to use of the property in Washington.

See WAC 458-20-178 or RCW 82.12 for more information.

Reporting and Paying Use Tax

Registered businesses must report use tax under the use tax section of the excise tax return.

Use Tax Due Dates

Under state law, the use tax is due when the goods are first used in Washington. (See page 10 for the RCW definition of used.) For example, if you purchase a new computer while traveling in Oregon, use tax is due when you return to Washington.

Public Utility Tax

Common Public Utility Tax Classifications

The public utility tax applies to your business if you engage in any of the following activities within Washington State, as defined in Chapter 82.16 of the RCW. If the public utility tax applies, B&O tax does not.

- Water Distribution: operation of a plant or system for the distribution of water for hire or sale.
- Sewer Collection: collection of sewerage.
- Power: operation of a plant or system for the generation, production, or distribution of electrical energy for hire or sale. The tax is levied on the person making the final distribution within the state.
- Gas Distribution: operation of a plant or system for the production or distribution, for hire or sale, of natural and/or manufactured gas.
- Motor Transportation: operation of any motor propelled vehicle by which persons or property of others are moved for hire.
- Railroad, Railroad Car - Railroad: operation of any railroad or carrying property for public hire on the line of any common carrier operated in this state. Railroad car: rental, lease, or operation of cars used for transportation of property or persons upon the line of any railroad operated in this state when such railroad is not owned or leased by the person engaging in such business.
- Urban Transportation: operation of any motor propelled vehicle by which persons or property of others are moved for hire when:
 - Operated entirely within the corporate limits of any city or town or within five miles of the corporate limits.
 - Operated entirely within or between cities or towns whose corporate limits are not more than five miles apart or are within five miles of each other.
- Log Hauling: over public highways does not include hauling logs over private roads.

Rules dealing with the public utility tax include WAC 458-20-179 and 458-20-180.

Most people know that property tax applies to real property, such as land and improvements to land. Property tax also applies to personal property used in conducting business, when not exempt by law.

The chief characteristic distinguishing personal property from real property is mobility. Personal property includes machinery, equipment, furniture, and supplies. It does not include business inventories.

Administration

County assessors and treasurers administer the property tax in Washington State. Assessors value property at 100 percent of its true and fair value and treasurers collect the property tax. The Department of Revenue advises assessors and treasurers, and oversees the valuation and taxation of property across the state to ensure uniformity.

Personal Property Tax Listing Form

By April 30 each year, property owners must complete and file a Personal Property Listing Form with the county assessor, either by mail or electronically. Forms are available at your county assessor's office and our website. Each Personal Property Listing Form must list all taxable property located in the county that was owned on January 1 of that year. For multiple locations, property owners must file a separate listing for each location.

Penalty for Failure to File

Property owners who do not file a listing of personal property by April 30 are subject to an estimated tax assessment by the assessor. A penalty of five percent of the tax will be added for each month after the deadline the listing is filed. The maximum penalty is 25 percent of the tax.

For More Information

A Personal Property Tax fact sheet is available from our website at dor.wa.gov. Specific questions should be directed to your county assessor. Questions about property tax statements should be sent to your county treasurer. Telephone numbers for county offices are located in the government section of your local phone directory.

Tax Return Payment and Reporting

Accounting Methods

Unless you keep your books on a cash basis, taxes must be paid for all sales made during the reporting period, even if you have not received payment.

Payment of Taxes

Your state B&O tax is reported on the excise tax return. Businesses file tax returns either monthly, quarterly, or annually. After registering your business, we will determine your reporting frequency based on your estimated gross income and your type of business.

If you do not conduct any business you are still responsible for filing a no business return.

Due Dates

Monthly filers

The 25th day of the month following the reporting period.

Note: Monthly filers must file and pay taxes electronically.

Quarterly filers

Last day of the month following the reporting period.

Note: Quarterly filers must file and pay taxes electronically.

Annually filers

January 31 of each year.

Note: Annual filers may file and pay taxes electronically or paper return.

If the due date falls on a weekend or legal holiday, the due date is extended to the next business day.

Electronic Filing (E-file)

Electronic filing is a free service that lets you prepare and file your tax return electronically any time of the day. E-file allows you to:

- Customize your tax return, showing only the lines you need.
- Calculate taxes due and flag potential errors, helping you avoid costly mistakes.
- Choose one of several payment methods - Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT), e-check, credit card, or paper check.
- Save postage and avoid the chance of your return being lost or delayed in the mail.
- File your return early and choose the date you want your payment withdrawn (with EFT).

E-file is fast, convenient, and secure. Visit our website at dor.wa.gov for more information. If you need help getting started with E-file, call 1-877-345-3353.

Reporting No Business Activity

Your business must file a tax return each reporting period even if you did not conduct business or receive income. There are three ways to report.

- Online: Go to our website at dor.wa.gov and login to your My account. If you are not registered follow the instructions to create a online account.
- Phone: Call our 24-hour automated system at 1-800-647-7706. At the greeting enter 111 then enter your nine digit UBI/tax registration number and follow the instructions.
- Mail: If you receive a paper excise tax return, fill in the No Business activity box. Sign, date the return and include a daytime number.

Make a copy for your files and mail the original return in the self-addressed envelope provided.

Note: If you are signed up to use E-file, you will not receive a paper return. Follow the instructions above to report No Business Activity through E-file or by phone.

For help or more information call 1-800-647-7706 or your local Revenue office. Please have your UBI/tax registration number available.

If you have multiple periods to correct, you can photocopy each return and mark your changes, or send us a spreadsheet, listing each period and the correction to each period. Spreadsheets can be mailed or sent to us electronically by using the online option above.

Note: The Department can only honor refunds dating back four calendar years prior the year in which the refund request is made. (See WAC 458-20-229.)

Correcting a Previously Filed Return

If you have reported your taxes incorrectly, you can file an amended return or schedule to correct the error. If additional taxes are due and the original return was late, the amount should be remitted along with the returns and any applicable interest and penalties. If taxes have been overpaid, a refund will be issued or a credit will be applied to your future taxes. Two options to amend your return are:

- Online: Log on to your My account at dor.wa.gov, and click Amend next to the period and year of the previously filed return you need to correct, or from the menu at the left, choose File a return, then Amend a return.
- Mail: Make or print a copy of the return you need to correct. At the top, write Amended Return in large letters. Draw a single line through any incorrect information and write the correct information on the side or above. (Please use black ink) Recalculate your totals. Attach a cover letter explaining why you are submitting an amended return. Mail the amended return and cover letter to:

Taxpayer Account Administration
Washington State Department of Revenue
PO Box 47476
Olympia, WA 98504-7476

Penalties

If You Can't File or Pay on Time

Contact your local Department of Revenue office right away. There is a penalty on late payments. The penalties are as follows:

- 5 percent after the due date until the last day of the month following the due date.
- 15 percent after the last day of the month following the due date.
- 25 percent after the last day of the second month following the due date, and anything after.

Filing extensions can be requested and penalties may be waived under limited circumstances.

Registering with the Department of Revenue

Register if:

- Your business is required to collect retail sales tax.
- You are a buyer or processor of specialty wood products.
- Your business is required to pay any other taxes or fees to the Department of Revenue.

DO NOT register if:

- Your gross income is less than $12,000 per year under both the business and occupation tax and the public utility tax, and you are not required to collect or pay any tax or fee to the Department of Revenue.

Helpful Hints

Collecting Retail Sales Tax

Set up a separate account for retail sales tax (collected trust funds). Every time you collect sales tax, put the funds in that account. This way, you will not accidentally spend these funds and they will be available to remit with your return.

Business Information Changes

Please contact the Department of Revenue if any information you've given us has changed, including:

- Your address (physical and mailing)
- Email address
- Phone number
- Business entity
- Business activity
- Business closure

You can update your information online. To use this service, go to our website at dor.wa.gov and sign up for My Account. If you are already signed up, go to Manage business account in the left navigation and click Update business information or Close business.

You may also report changes to your account using the Business License Application. The Business License Application is also available on our website at business.wa.gov/BLS

Avoid Late Payments

- File electronically through our electronic filing system (E-file). See the E-file information on page 18.
- Mark your calendar. It is your responsibility to ensure your excise tax return is postmarked or filed electronically by the due date.
Tip: Once you E-file, you will automatically receive e mail reminders of your filing deadlines. You will no longer receive a paper return.

If you have questions about tax liability, payment, returns, or other subjects, call us at 1-800-647-7706.

Audit Process

As a registered business you may be selected for an audit. Audits are routine procedures used to determine whether state excise taxes have been reported and paid correctly. The majority of businesses we audit are chosen at random using statistical methods.

In general, your records will be reviewed to verify proper tax reporting. Where appropriate, you will also receive helpful instructions and information on how to fill out returns in the future. We are committed to working with you in a professional and cooperative manner.

Audit procedures and programs may include:

- Obtaining electronic files of the accounting records for the audit period.
- Random, non-statistical sampling of specific audit areas.
- Computer-assisted audits using a statistical sampling technique. These are primarily used for large businesses.

What to Expect During an Audit

Audits normally cover the four preceding calendar years, plus the current year through the end of the last calendar quarter. All taxes, deductions, and exemptions reported on your excise tax return will be reviewed.

An audit of your business activities will cover several major areas, including:

1. Gross Income: verification of proper amounts and classifications reported on the return.
2. Deductions, credits and exemptions: verification of proper amounts, classifications, and documentation.
3. Purchases: verification of retail sales or use tax paid on capital assets, consumable supplies, or articles manufactured for your own use.

Recordkeeping Requirements

To minimize inconvenience and the time it takes to complete an audit, you will be asked to have records available for the audit period for your meeting with the auditor, these include:

- Washington State excise tax return and work papers.
- Federal Income Tax Return for the business.
- Summary accounting records and source journals such as the check register, general ledger, sales journal, general journal, cash receipts journal, and any other records you use to record income and expenses.
- Sales invoices.
- Purchase invoices (accounts payable, receipts).
- Depreciation schedules listing all assets acquired or disposed of during the audit period along with purchase or sales invoices for those assets.
- Reseller permits for any wholesale sales.
- Supporting documentation for all deductions and exemptions.

You have the right to appeal when you disagree with an assessment issued by the Department of Revenue.

Taxpayers who disagree with an assessment may ask for a supervisory conference before the assessment is issued. For example, when your business records are audited, the auditor will meet with you to discuss the results. If you disagree with those results, you can have a conference with the auditor's supervisor.

If the differences can't be resolved at the supervisory level, you can file a petition for review with the Department of Revenue Appeals Division.

Appeals Process

Period for Filing an Appeal

You must file an appeal before the due date or extension date of the assessment.

After the due date, you must:

- Pay the assessment.
- File a petition for review requesting a refund within four years of the close of the tax year in which taxes were paid.

Example: If you paid tax in June 2008, you have until December 31, 2012, to petition for a refund.

Appeals must be mailed to:

Appeals Division
Washington State Department of Revenue
PO Box 47460
Olympia, Washington 98504-7460

WAC 458-20-100 contains a full discussion of the administrative appeals process. For a copy of the rule, go to our website at dor.wa.gov or call 1-800-647-7706.

B&O Tax Credits: Are subtracted to find net B&O tax before locating the SBC from the table (see next page).

Table 2: If your business activity is not one of the four activities listed below, please use this table. Use this SBC Table if less than 50% of your total taxable B&O income was reported under Service and Other, Gambling Contests of Chance, For Profit Hospitals, and/or Scientific R&D.
